Generosity
Organ and tissue donation offers the hope to heal. Many people register to be donors at the DMV or online to ensure they help others through their gifts of life. Others make the donation decision for their loved ones at the time of their death. The generosity at the end of their lifetime, gives a lifetime to someone else. Many families find comfort knowing the legacy of their loved one continues.

Donate Life
Recognized as the national organization and symbol for organ, eye and tissue donation, Donate Life organizations inspire our communities to embrace the culture of donation. We partner with the states DMV offices to enroll individuals on the state-authorized donor registries.

Ideas for Your Families
Your donor families may want to personalize their funeral services highlighting the giving nature of their loved one. Many times donor families may wish to have their loved one’s gifts of life recognized formally in the obituaries. Phases often used, ...gave in death, as in life ...was an organ and tissue donor ...final act was to give the gift of life through organ and tissue donation

Hero
The selfless act of becoming an organ and tissue donor is heroic. They are thought of by their transplant recipients daily. We honor and remember our donor heroes annually at Donor Family Gatherings held throughout our service area. Each family is presented a medal of honor as a token of gratitude. The donor families receive a year of emotional support from our Donor Network West Family Aftercare professionals to aid with their healing process.
Education
We host Funeral Home Symposiums to provide the latest information on the preparation of organ and tissue donors. We engage prominent speakers of interest to funeral home professionals. Topics including: The Impact of Skin Donation on Saving Lives, Updates on Laws, Case Reviews, and Donor Embalming techniques have been discussed at past symposiums.
